RE: New Student Page Available on State Treasurer's Office Website

Dear Administrators, Teachers, Students, and Parents:

It gives me great pride to announce a new web page addition to the State Treasurer's Office website (<https://nevadatreasurer.gov/Index.htm>), specifically designed with you in mind.

Our new State Treasurer's Office Student Page (https://nevadatreasurer.gov/Index_Students.htm) was developed to assist students, parents, and teachers by providing a wide variety of web links that can be used to teach financial literacy skills and to broaden a child's ability to learn Nevada, United States, and world history. Links provided on the page will take students to Nevada Facts/State Symbols, Nevada Frequently Asked Questions, Nevada's State Constitution and Youth Legislature, as well as helpful sites that will link students directly to National Geographic, The History Channel, historical biographies, and information about every state in the nation. We've also included great links to financial literacy information specifically designed to assist children with learning about managing money.

The Student Page also contains information about Nevada's College Savings Plans, Nevada Prepaid Tuition, and the Gov. Guinn Millennium Scholarship programs.

Our intent in creating this page was to provide teachers and parents with a wide variety of links on one page that can be used in the classroom or home to further develop a student's learning ability. Students will also benefit from a one-stop shop of helpful links that can be used to complete homework assignments and special projects.

This is your page, so any suggestions you have for improving it will be much appreciated.

Respectfully,
